What is this Product?

You are purchasing shares in a English company quoted on the Access segment of the Aquis Growth Market – which is operated by the Aquis Stock Exchange Limited (Aquis Stock Exchange), a recognised investment exchange under Part XVIII of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (FSMA). The exchange is a market designed primarily for emerging or smaller companies to which a higher investment risk tends to be attached than to larger or more established companies.

The Company intends to be a technology specialist investor, to deploy most of the Company’s cash resources in the acquisition of minority interests in a number of different companies in the quantum technology sector.

Fuller details are set out in the Admission Document available by request from info@quantumexp.co.uk..

The product has no maturity date.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 6 which is the second highest risk class due to the nature of its investment.

QUANTUM EXPONENTIAL GROUP PLC

The following risks to the Product have been taken into account in the summary risk indicator above:

- The Company will have no operations or investments producing revenues or positive cash flow at the outset.
- The Company's target markets may not grow or develop as it currently expects, and if it fails to penetrate new markets, its revenue and financial condition could be harmed.

You should refer to the Admission Document dated October 2021 for further information on relevant risk factors.

Performance Scenarios

Investment £10,000		1 year	5 years
Scenarios
Unfavourable scenario	What you might get back after costs Average return each year	£0 %	£0 %
Moderate scenario	What you might get back after costs Average return each year	£10,000 0%	£10,000 0%
Favourable scenario	What you might get back after costs Average return each year	£15,000 50%	£50,000 50%

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 5 years under different scenarios, assuming that you invest £10,000. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance and are not an indicator, representation, warranty or forecast of performance. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment. The figures shown include all the costs of the Product itself, but may not include all the costs you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

What happens if the Manufacturer is unable to pay out?¹

As a shareholder of Quantum you would not be able to make a claim to the Financial Services Compensation scheme about Quantum in the event that Quantum were unable to pay any dividend or other returns it may elect to pay from time to time or if it were unable to pay any amounts due to you on a winding up. If you sell your shares on the Aquis exchange your bank or stockbroker will receive cash on delivery of your share and should pass that on to you.

What are the costs?

Costs over Time

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs.

The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for two different holding periods. They include potential exit penalties. The figures assume you invest £10,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.
